

The Terrorism Transnational Crime and Corruption Center
At George Mason University
Presents:

Asian Perspectives on Transnational Crime and Human Trafficking

Tuesday April 19th, 2011
12:00pm-2:00 pm

Room 120, Founders Hall
School of Public Policy
3351 Fairfax Drive, 1st Floor
Arlington, VA 22201

Discussion Panel Includes Visiting Fellows from the Center for Northeast Asian Policy Studies at the Brookings Institution:

Nelson Yiu-mo Cheng (Hong Kong) is a deputy district commander of the Eastern District in the Hong Kong Police Force. Mr. Cheng's research is focused on "The Effectiveness of Money Laundering Investigations in Addressing the Challenges of Transnational Crime: A Comparison Study Between the United States and Hong Kong."

Shen Haimei (China) is professor of anthropology at Yunnan University's Anthropological Research Institute. Professor Shen's CNAPS working paper will be "Trafficking in Women Across the Yunnan-Myanmar Border in Transnational Migration Era China."

Ta Minh Tuan (Vietnam) is associate professor and deputy director of the Center for Foreign Policy and Regional Studies at the Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam. Dr. Tuan will conduct research on "Southeast Asia Nuclear Weapon-Free Zone: Meeting the Challenges of the 21st Century."

Sandy Yu-Lan Yeh (Taiwan) is an associate professor in the department of Foreign Affairs Police at the Central Police University, Taiwan. While at CNAPS, Dr. Yeh's research will focus on "Developing a Comprehensive and Effective Policy Framework for Anti-Human Trafficking Efforts in Taiwan."

Opening Remarks Given By Former ROK Ambassador to Finland, Ho-Jin Lee, and Dr. Louise Shelley

A Light Lunch Will Be Served

To RSVP, Please contact Caitlin Kurylo at tracc@gmu.edu or 703-993-9757